

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A recycling system is used for processing an engine oil filter and comprises a frame, a filter net, a cutting device, a dividing device, and a compressing device. Thus, all of the parts of the used engine oil filter can be 5 divided, processed and reused respectively, thereby efficiently achieving the resource recycling purpose, and thereby preventing the used engine oil filter from causing environmental pollution.